PRESS RELEASE

01/10/2018

ANTONIO CARRARO AT AGROALPIN 2018
8-11 November 2018, Innsbruck, Austria.

The attendance of Antonio Carraro at the next Agroalpin - Innsbruck trade fair will certainly stand out, both as far as image (based on testimonials by Albano Carrisi, well-known agricultural entrepreneur and international popstar), and for its many new products, starting from the R Series tractors, all seven models of which will be on display.

Common denominators of the range are the Phase 3B 98 HP engine and the ACTIO™ oscillating integral chassis in all its possible configurations: steering, articulated, low centre of gravity, wide track, or with 2 or 4 rubber tracks for the “Mach” models.

These will be followed by the Tony Range, with its compact software controlled transmission isodiametric tractors intended for precision farming, also including a civil maintenance model and a haymaking model.

New versions also for the Infinity Range, with super-specialised models completing a successful range of reversible tractors with three-automatic-speed hydrostatic transmission.

Lastly, on exhibition will be a number of new accessories for all the tractors, result of the work and the technical developments implemented by Antonio Carraro to ensure superior performance levels in all aspects, from the hydraulics to the mechanical systems.
